What Are Managed Futures Strategies?

Capturing Market Trends

- At the most basic level, managed futures attempt to capture market moves (trends) hoping these moves will extend further
- While there can be a great deal of sophistication surrounding signal generation and risk management, the basic premise is:
 - Go long when markets are moving upward
 - Go short when markets are moving downward
- Explanations that support the trend following:
 - Behavioral biases
 - Slow dissemination and underreaction to information
 - Long-term macro cycles (policy and business cycle)

1. Trend following is a managed futures strategy/approach.

Derivative instruments may be highly sensitive to market factors, have less liquidity than other investments and involve the potential for losses to exceed the amount invested.

Quantitative models may not perform as expected and may result in losses for the Fund. Investing in foreign and emerging markets may involve heightened risk due to currency fluctuations and economic and political risks. Regulatory changes may impair the Fund's ability to qualify for federal income tax treatment as a regulated investment company, which could result in the Fund and shareholders incurring significant income tax expense. The Fund may have high portfolio turnover risk, which could increase the Fund's transaction costs and possibly have a negative impact on performance. Because the Fund may invest in fewer issuers than a more diversified portfolio, the fluctuating value of a single holding may have a greater effect on the value of the Fund. Please see the prospectus for a complete discussion of the Fund's risks. There can be no assurances that the investment objectives of this Fund will be met.

Important Information: All investing involves risk, including possible loss of principal. Indexes are unmanaged and one cannot invest directly in an index. A portion of fees charged to the Y Class was waived from Fund inception through 2018, partially recovered in 2019, and waived in 2020 through 2022. Performance prior to waiving fees was lower than actual returns shown for periods when fees were waived. Specific information about any Fund may be found at americanbeaconfunds.com or in the prospectus.

For each fund with at least a three-year history, Morningstar calculates a Morningstar Rating™ based on a Morningstar Risk-Adjusted Return measure that accounts for variation in a fund's monthly performance (including the effects of sales charges, loads and redemption fees), placing more emphasis on downward variations and rewarding consistent performance. The top 10% of funds in each category receive 5 stars, the next 22.5% receive 4 stars, the next 35% receive 3 stars, the next 22.5% receive 2 stars and the bottom 10% receive 1 star. (Each share class is counted as a fraction of one fund within the scale and rated separately, which may cause slight variations in the distribution percentages.) The Overall Morningstar Rating for a fund is derived from a weighted average of performance figures associated with its three-, five- and 10-year (if applicable) Morningstar Rating metrics. In the U.S.-domiciled Systematic Trend category, the American Beacon AHL Managed Futures Strategy Fund (Y Class) was rated 4 stars out of 62 funds overall. The fund was rated 3 stars out of 62 funds, 3 stars out of 61 funds and 4 stars out of 54 funds for the three-, five- and 10-year periods, respectively. Past performance is no guarantee of future results.
