Derivative instruments may be highly sensitive to market factors, have less liquidity than other investments and involve the potential for losses to exceed the amount invested. Interest rate risk is the risk that debt securities will decrease in value with increases in market interest rates. Quantitative models may not perform as expected and may result in losses for the Fund. Investments in high-yield securities (commonly referred to as "junk bonds") are subject to greater levels of credit, interest rate, market and liquidity risks than investment-grade securities. In a period of sustained deflation, inflation index-linked securities may not pay any income and may suffer a loss. Investing in foreign and emerging markets may involve heightened risk due to currency fluctuations and economic and political risks. Regulatory changes may impair the Fund's ability to qualify for federal income tax treatment as a regulated investment company, which could result in the Fund and shareholders incurring significant income tax expense. The Fund may have high portfolio turnover risk, which could increase the Fund's transaction costs and possibly have a negative impact on performance. Because the Fund may invest in fewer issuers than a more diversified portfolio, the fluctuating value of a single holding may have a greater effect on the value of the Fund. Please see the prospectus for a complete discussion of the Fund's risks. There can be no assurances that the investment objectives of this Fund will be met.

Important Information: All investing involves risk, including possible loss of principal. Indexes are unmanaged and one cannot invest directly in an index. Please note that the recent performance of the securities market has helped produce short-term returns that are not typical and may not continue in the future.

For each fund with at least a three-year history, Morningstar calculates a Morningstar Rating™ based on a Morningstar Risk-Adjusted Return measure that accounts for variation in a fund's monthly performance (including the effects of sales charges, loads and redemption fees), placing more emphasis on downward variations and rewarding consistent performance. The top 10% of funds in each category receive 5 stars, the next 22.5% receive 4 stars, the next 35% receive 3 stars, the next 22.5% receive 2 stars and the bottom 10% receive 1 star. (Each share class is counted as a fraction of one fund within the scale and rated separately, which may cause slight variations in the distribution percentages.) The Overall Morningstar Rating for a fund is derived from a weighted average of performance figures associated with its three-, five- and 10-year (if applicable) Morningstar Rating metrics. In the U.S.-domiciled Tactical Allocation category, the American Beacon AHL TargetRisk Fund (Y Class) was rated 3 stars out of 225 funds overall. The fund was rated 2 stars out of 225 and 3 stars out of 202 funds for the three- and five-year periods, respectively. Past performance is no guarantee of future results.

A portion of fees charged to the Y Class of AHL TargetRisk Fund was waived from Fund inception through 2020 and from 2022 through 2023. Performance prior to waiving fees was lower than actual returns shown for periods when fees were waived. Specific information about any Fund may be found at americanbeaconfunds.com or in the prospectus.

AHL began managing a similar account using the strategy of the Fund (the "Similar Account") on December 12, 2014. The Similar Account has substantially similar investment objectives, policies and strategies in all material respects to the Fund. The performance information relates to the historical performance of the Similar Account, as measured against a composite index and the two broad-based market indexes that comprise the composite index. The performance of the Similar Account does not represent the historical performance of the Fund and should not be considered indicative of future performance of the Fund, nor should it be considered a substitute for the Fund's performance. Results may differ because of, among other things, differences in brokerage commissions, account expenses, including management fees, the size of positions taken in relation to account size and diversification of securities, timing of purchases and sales, and availability of cash for new investments. In addition, the Similar Account is not a registered mutual fund and is not subject to the same types of expenses as the Fund, nor has it been subject to certain investment limitations, diversification requirements or other restrictions imposed by the Investment Company Act and the Internal Revenue Code which, if applicable, may have adversely affected the performance results of the Similar Account. Notwithstanding these differences, the Similar Account and the Fund are substantially similar from an investment perspective. The Similar Account is the only account managed by AHL with substantially similar investment objectives, policies and strategies in all material respects to the Fund.

The 60/40 Global Index (Hedged to USD) combines the returns of the MSCI World Index Hedged to U.S. Dollars (USD) and the Bloomberg Global-Aggregate Total Return Index Value Hedged USD in a 60%/40% proportion. The MSCI World Index Hedged to USD represents a close estimation of the performance that can be achieved by hedging the currency exposures of its parent index, the MSCI World Index, to the USD, the "home" currency for the hedged index.
